

Host entrepreneur: Barry Bonifacious

New entrepreneurs: 3

Barry runs a construction and building maintenance company in London and has proved very supportive of the new entrepreneurs spending time with him.

He also benefited from their input in his business and reported having increased his turnover thanks to them, improved his entrepreneurial and soft skills, communication and adaptability.

For him, it has been a fruitful and useful experience, one he would have liked to continue being involved in. Unfortunately with Brexit, the programme ends in the UK in the near future.
